Why it all started?

Firstly, science proves that reading is good for you!

People who read books live longer according to Yale University researcher; who studied 3,635 people older than 50 years old and found that those who read books for 30 minutes daily lived an average of 23 months longer than non-readers did.

The practice of reading books creates cognitive engagement that improves many things; including vocabulary, thinking skills and concentration. It also can affect empathy, social perception, and emotional intelligence; the sum of which helps people stay on the planet longer.

It is a fact that successful people are readers. This is because high achievers are keen on self-improvement and want to learn new things.

Why not trade wasted time on your phone for flipping pages in bed, on the train, during meal breaks or whilst waiting in line?

What a student gets when subscribed to the club

7/10 Books Per Academic Year

A student gets minimum 7 and maximum 10 Trade books in one academic year.

This depends on the grade he/she is at.

We believe that books can change the world!

Nietzsche, Dante, Edgar Allen Poe, the late Stephen Hawking and many more famous authors are covered at The King's and Queen's Club.

We trust that in the hands of curious students; books have the power to change the world for the better.

Discussion time once a month with a Native Speaker

Native English speakers will host the sessions at the King's & Queen's Club, thereby allowing students to practise their English language (especially reading and speaking) for a full two hours a month with the highest quality English language staff available in Georgia.

Each new book studied gives students the opportunity to acquire invaluable life skills whether it is through more participation, improved leadership, critical thinking preparation, enhanced interpersonal skills, formal discussion practice, public speaking exposure, more commitment to reading or simply better retention of information.

Quidditch Intellectual Competitions

All of the members of the King's & Queen's Club are automatically registered in Quidditch Intellectual Competitions!

About the Game:

1. A student has to be between 14 – 18 years old
2. The Game consists of 10 questions out of which 4 are logic questions, 2 are GMAT questions, 1 is a picture question, 1 English Book Education Round, 1 Themed Question, and 1 King's and Queen's Club Round.
3. Last but not least is the 'Captain Round', which is very different from the other rounds

Quidditch Intellectual Competitions

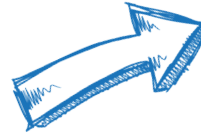

We would like to tell you little bit more about the competitions.

We all love it. It's always full of adventure, experience, challenge, risk taking and sometimes it fills us with tears.

It has been with us since 2015 and we loved every second of it. The game consists of 10 questions out of which, 2 are GMAT type questions, 1 picture question, King's and Queen's Club Round, Logic type questions and of course, one and only Sherlock Holmes questions.

On top of everything this academic year, games will be hosted by a well-known speaker (who is mostly hated, but we still love him) Giorgi Chikobava.
